Rev. C. P. Masden, of the Fourth Street M. E. Church, opened yesterday morning's ession of the Se

The matutinal deliberations were unextiting and uninteresting, most of the time mendments to Senate bill No. 139 which rovoked extended discussion without conincing the Senate of the necessity of the roposed changes, none of the amendments yesterday, having fully recovered from the indisposition which detained him at home. Mr. Faulkner now remains the solitary ubsentee, being detained at his home by pressing business.

A communication from the House of Delegates announced the passage of House for the day, on account of illness. Joint Resolution No. 28, the character of which is fully described in the report of the proceedings of that body. The joint resolution of the House, "instructing our Senators and Representatives Congress to favor a modification of the in Congress to favor a modification of the Internal revenue laws in relation to the sale of tobacco," coming up in its regular order was read, and the action of the House concurred in.

Another joint resolution conceived in the same body, "asking our Representatives in Congress to arge the early passage of the apportionment bill," was also concurred in.

Senate bill No. 76, "providing for the creation of an Independent School District of Belleville, Wood county," was presented for consideration. The only question was on the amendment of the House, providing for the creation of the district in 1882 instead of 1881. The change was concurred in.

and adopted as amended. Those who voted against the measure were Messrs. McGrew, Newman and Williams. The bill was given immediate effect on the motion of Mr. Stout.

motion of Mr. Stout.

The second reading of Senate bill No. 132, opened the door for several amendments, but they did not prevail. The bill makes provision for the compensation of the officers of the State, including the pay of members of the Legislature and expenses.

The first amendment was offered by Mr. Summers (Mr. Stout in the chair), which sought to increase the salary of the Attorney General's Clerk from $600 to $900, and which failed.

Mr. M'Gregor, bissoul being possessed with a desire to obtain for the State honest service on the part of her law makers, asked that before any member be allowed to draw pay for the time he was absent on feave on sccount of sickness, he shall produce a certificate of some regularly practicing physician of such inability to attend to his duties. The Senators, however, were distincted in the state of the service of the servi duties. The Senators, however, were disposed to look coldly upon the proposition and it was quietly and neathy voted down.

As the recent change in the judicial system of the State, effected by the constitutional amendments adopted, reduced the pay of the Supreme Court Judges from $2,250 to $2,200, Mr. Newman moved that the judges elected before the first day of October, 1880, receive the former salary. It was claimed in support of this amendment that two of the Judges (Johnson and Haymond) were elected in 1876, and that according to the well-known constitutional ording to the well-known constitutional ovision, that no officer's salary shall be provision, that no officer's salary shall be acceased or diminished during the term or which he was elected. a conflict arose between the amended and fundamental aw. The yea and may vote on Mr. New-man's proposition, called for by Mr. Me-direw, resulted as follows: Yeas—Messrs. Summers (President), Da-ison, Newman, Roberts, Stout, Vanme-er, Williams and Woods—8. Nays—Messrs. Barbee, Brown, Dawson, Jennis, Donchoo, Ewin, Farnsworth, Max-Jennis, Donchoo, Ewin, Farnsworth, Max-

Novs—Mesers. Barbee, Brown, Dawson, Dennis, Donchoo, Ewin, Farnsworth, Max-well, McGrew, McGregor, McNeel, Sam-ples, Shelton, Smith, and Stollings—15. Absent and not voting, Mr. Faulkner. After the vote was announced the Sen-ite took a recess until 230 o'clock, on the motion of Mr. Farnsworth.

The measure pending at the hour of re-ess was taken up in the afternoon, and a number of amendments made and the bill of fees received by the Secretary of State was ascertained, for which purpose a special committee was appointed. Two other bills reported by the Revisory Committee were taken up and passed to their third reading, following which an executive ses-sion was held.

Upon reassembling the consideration of enate bill 132 was resumed. By unanious consent Mr. Newman moved a recon- for the day. ideration of the vote refusing to adopt the salary of the clerk of the Attorney General $900, and upon that gentleman's motion the salary was fixed at the increased figure. The per diem of the clerks of the Senate and House were fixed at the old figures.

$10 00. The Revisory Committee reduced the pay of the clerk of the Senate to $8 00 and increased that of the clerk of the House and increased that of the clerk of the House to $12 00 per day.

The pay of the clerk to the Superintendent of Free Schools was reduced by the Revisory Committee to $500, which, several Senators thought was too small. Mr. Farnsworth's motion to increase the sum to $900, was ably supported by Mr. Smith and combatted on constitutional grounds by Mr. Brown. A vote on the proposition resulted in its adoption—thirteen yeas and ten nays.

If the amount was large he did not think it was proper that the appropriation should be made. He wanted to vote intelligently on the bill, and offered the following to obtain information on the subject.

The remainder of the afternoon session as consumed in the consideration of Senwas consumed in the consideration of Sentate bills Nos, 133 and 134, reported by the Revisory Committee. Amendments were made by Messes Woods, Brown, Vanmeter, Donehoo, Newman and Dawson, and third reading.

After the reading of the journal was dispensed with, Speaker Wilson announced the appointment of Messrs. Irons, Crumrine and Steere as the special committee to investigate the ventilation of the House, and improve the same if necessary and practicable.

Leave of absence was granted to Dr. Bee for the day, on account of illness.

A communication was received from the Governor in regard to a proposition from the stockholders of the defentet Merchant's Bank of Charleston. This bank has for a long time owed the State $37,028 32. It failed to pay drafts made upon it by the Treasurer, and suit was instituted and judgment secured. Afterwards the bank's affairs were placed in the hands of a receiver. The State being unable to realize anything upon its judgments, brought suit against the sureties of the bank, which suit the Circuit Court of Kanawha county decided against the State.
